Our Favorite Reader Mail, Ever

By RACHEL NOLAN

Front and back of a recent postcard sent to us.

We get letters of all kinds addressed to the sixth floor: complaints, fan mail, unsolicited manuscripts and story ideas. But rare indeed is the retro-looking postcard featuring drug paraphernalia. This postcard was sent to us by the artist A. Bitterman, who kindly permitted us to scan and post it here. It refers to a story we ran in our Voyages issue on a substance-fueled tour through Disneyland. Enclosed with the postcard, A. Bitterman also sent us a packet of information about his installation, Point of Interest, in Kansas City, Mo. If you are ever there on a voyage of your own, check it out
